

MBO at Ohmycad: the Dassault Systèmes integrator buys back 100% of its capital to accelerate its platform strategy

The management of Ohmycad (NEXTCUBE.IO SAS), a Dassault Systèmes solutions integrator specialized in SOLIDWORKS, CATIA, 3DEXPERIENCE and Outscale, has acquired the entire capital of the company from Avenao.

The transaction comes after a record year: 16 awards received at Dassault Systèmes 3DEXPERIENCE World 2026, including number one cloud reseller worldwide*. It gives the management team the means to accelerate on two fronts: the historical business of direct sales and integration of Dassault Systèmes solutions, and the transformation into a distribution and enablement platform (Value Added Master Reseller) that helps entrepreneurs replicate its model internationally.

The four managers behind Ohmycad's buyout.

The OMC30 Plan is clear: become Dassault Systèmes' number one partner worldwide in new client acquisition.

The buyout group brings together Ohmycad's four historical managers: Pierre-Marc Allain (CEO & Co-Founder), Victor Roux (CMO & Head of Master Reseller Program), Kilian

Le Fouillé (CRO & Head of Ohmycad Studio) and Nadim Al Khoury (COO, Finance & Operations). They are backed by the historical founders (Sébastien and Lenny Vercruysse) who, as reference shareholders, remain committed to the objectives of the OMC30 Plan.

For all Ohmycad clients, nothing changes day to day. Independence will make it possible to invest faster: artificial intelligence and new technologies serving clients, development of the partner network, service offerings, sovereign cloud with Outscale.

"Our clients are going through a major transition: the move to the cloud, the arrival of artificial intelligence in design, tools evolving faster than ever. This buyout gives us the means to support them freely, by investing in the platform, services and skills. For them, it is the same team, with more resources and a clear direction",

Pierre-Marc Allain, CEO.

The team thanks Dassault Systèmes for its trust throughout this transaction, Avenao & Prodways for their support over all these years, as well as its advisors and partners: CL Partners (Nicolas Ménard-Durand, Orlando Vignoli, Patrick Hannan) and Banque Populaire Val de France (Annie Lejehan, Paul-Landry Mekouawa), for their sound advice throughout the operation.
